The Honorable Minister Louis Farrakhan has been a faithful warner to the world of the plots and plans of Satan, whose entire aim and objective is to master the Original Man. Satan has given us misleaders who have time after time walked us directly into his traps, degrading us and destroying our future. Not Farrakhan. Here The Minister is described by our dear and recently departed Brother Harry Belafonte in his 1996 interview with Dr. Cornel West:

"The only one who speaks outside the system is Farrakhan. He's captured the hearts and the imaginations of millions of young Black people because he's outside the system. The rest of us are in the system. All those young civil rights leaders, all those great leaders—whether it's Jesse Jackson or John Lewis—we're all in the system. We're in the Congress, we're in the government, and we're playing their game. We have to be reelected. We have to aspire to the presidency. We are the chief of the army. We have all these titles, but we've lost our humanity, we've lost our vision, we've lost our culture."

What Belafonte says is key. Almighty God Allah has blessed us with VISION in Farrakhan—a protector and a guide to regain our humanity. So many times he has risked his own life to save ours! Today, we face Satan's final desperate act of DEPOPULATION—he intends to cull 2-3 billion people from planet earth, fulfilling the divine warning of The Most Honorable Elijah Muhammad: "I always shall rise to your defense against such an artful, wicked race of people, who have nothing in mind but death for the Black man—their scheme covered with a semi-bait of good. Once you have swallowed it, it is death." It is FARRAKHAN and Him Alone who has risen—over and over—to our defense.

Carefully read his prophetic words from PART 36 of his monumental lecture series THE TIME AND WHAT MUST BE DONE, delivered on September 12, 2013:

"Well, during my 2012 Saviours' Day message, we spoke on a plan by the government of the United States led by Dr. Henry Kissinger to engage in worldwide depopulation of the darker peoples of the world. In 1974, Mr. Kissinger, as Secretary of State under President Nixon, signed National Security Study Memorandum 200, titled "Implications of Worldwide Population Growth for U.S. Security Overseas Interests." It was adopted as official policy in 1975 by President Gerald Ford. Those who analyzed the report said, "Dr. Kissinger proposed that depopulation should be the highest priority of U.S. foreign policy toward the Third World." Think about that.

Although this plan of action was to be activated in developing countries, it was designed as a two-edged sword that could be swung with equal determination in both developed and developing countries alike because in developed countries, like America, a growing number of Third World people live.

Depopulation Plot

This document was signed by Henry Kissinger and directed to the Secretaries of Defense, Agriculture, Central Intelligence and the Deputy Secretary of State, and the Administrator of the Agency for International Development with a copy to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This was taken like a theatre of war and all factions of government were introduced to this to develop plans and activate plans internationally to cull between two to three billion people from the face of the earth.

Well, Kissinger prepared yet another depopulation manifesto for President Jimmy Carter called “Global 2000,” which detailed using food as a weapon to depopulate the Third World. So then Zbigniew Brzezinski, who was Carter’s National Security Advisor said, “It’s easier to kill a million people today than to control a million people.” So the killing of millions is going on. Let’s see what is happening to us.

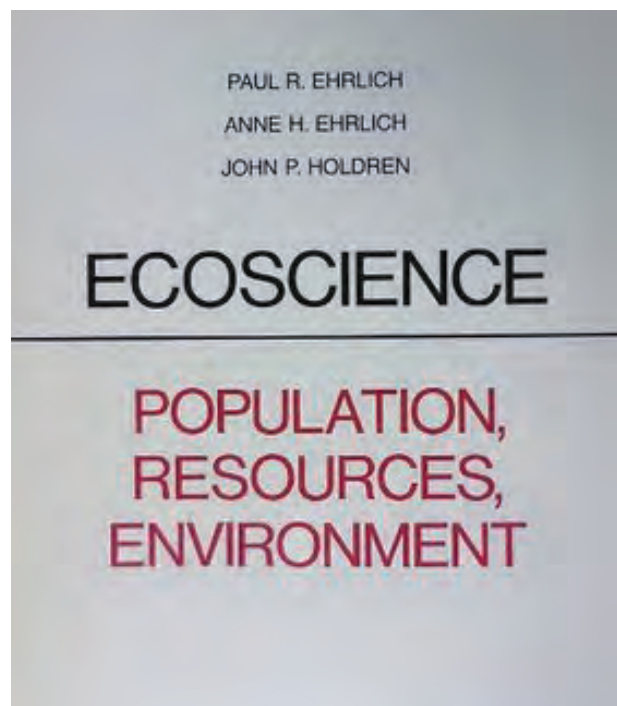

These groups—the Department of Defense, Agriculture, CIA, Agency for International Development and the Joint Chiefs of Staff—I’m sorry to tell you: they’re planning death on a worldwide scale. They have used a series of methods to effect global depopulation, including depleted uranium bombs, genetically engineered and modified foods, chemical additives in foods, poison in vaccines, famine, AIDS, Chemtrails, illegal wars. This plan for culling the population is not only in the Third World, but it comes right back home to the United States of America.

Dr. John P. Holdren was appointed by President Obama to be Director of the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy. In 1969, this same Dr. Holdren wrote on the subject of overpopulation in an article co-authored with Paul Ehrlich, and he argued that, “If the population control measures are not initiated immediately and effectively, all the technology man can bring to bear will not fend off the misery to come.”

In 1977, Mr. Holdren co-authored a book this time with Paul and Ann Ehrlich, titled Ecoscience Population Resources Environment, and among the issues discussed in this textbook were the use of “milder methods” of influencing family-size preferences, such as access to birth control and abortion. So, in all the major cities, particularly among the Black, and the Brown, and the Native Americans, these milder methods were used. And they wrote of a wide variety of solutions to overpopulation—from voluntary family planning to enforced population controls, including compulsory abortion, adding sterilants to drinking water or staple foods, and forced sterilization for women after they gave birth to a designated number of children.

Well, what does this word “sterilant” mean? To “sterilize” means “to make someone or something unable to produce children.” “To deprive of the power of reproducing, to make incapable of germination, to make powerless or useless usually by restraining from a normal function, relation or participation.”

You mean to tell me that they’re going to add into the water that which will forbid us to reproduce and we’re not only going to add it to the water, but we’re going to add it to the staple foods that people eat every day? The American people really need to see what the government is doing and how terrible the government is to allow something like this as “policy” not only in Third World countries but its policy right here in America.

... So when you get bread that is supposed to contain wheat but if you didn’t grow that wheat, where did you get the seeds? Where is the corn coming from? These are the things that are being used to cull populations all over the planet earth. Wheat now is genetically engineered. Corn is genetically engineered. Many vegetables are genetically modified (GMOs) and they are fighting to keep from advertising what it really is.

The American Society for Nutrition in its Journal of Nutrition published an abstract in 2006 titled “Biofortification of Staple Food Crops.” Well, “biofortification” is the development of micronutrient-dense staple crops using the best traditional breeding practices and modern biotechnology. Are they really enhancing the food with nutrients, or are they making sure that those who eat it become victims of the policy to cull the people of the Third World?

... The importance of this data is: When we juxtapose the decrease in farming with this Memorandum 200 by Henry Kissinger and the culling of the population of the planet with a policy of population control or depopulation in the United States, then we can see now how food is used as a weapon in that process. Then the control of the means of production of food and the methodology in producing the food, all of this is a part of the policy now of the Department of Agriculture, the FDA, the CIA—they are all linked together.

Oh, in this book Ecoscience, it talks about depopulation by putting certain chemicals in the water and in staple foods. Sodium fluoride is a poison that is used in the production of Sarin Gas. Sodium fluoride is an inorganic chemical compound, a colorless solid. Fluoride is a poison. Toothpaste contains sodium fluoride with the claim to reduce cavities.

Every time you drink from the tap, fluoridated water, you’re drinking some of the poison that they say will keep you from having cavities; but your children by the age of six, and seven, and eight have cavities. When I grew up, I never knew what a cavity was. There was no fluoridation of water at that time... When they started putting fluoride in the water, they had to sell the American people that this was going to help your teeth while in reality it was helping to make us sterile.

The Black farmers are still in a struggle with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, who were ultimately found to have discriminated against Black farmers from 1983 to 1997—14 years. In accessing loans and other needed assistance they were denied because of their race. The government is allowing these things to happen to the American people. Can the government then be charged with being the enemy and not the servant of the American people?

My God, if you’re doing this to us, why should we fight when you tell us? How can we trust you if you’re killing us through the food and its policy? How can we trust what you say to put our young people in harm’s way? Why should we pay taxes to a government that is using our tax dollars to implement policies that are killing the American people? We have to challenge a government like this.

Dr. Martin Luther King challenged unjust laws by organizing people, so people have to begin organizing to challenge all these things that are hurting the American people and culling, and killing, people all over our planet ...”
